DEVELOPING OUR UNDERSTANDING OF THE PRINCIPLES AND APPROACHES TO EFFECTIVE DRUG EDUCATION

Understanding what makes for effective drug education and prevention will be increasingly critical as PSHE is made statutory and pressures on prevention budgets grow.

The Drug Education Forum will use this, the first of three free seminars, to explore contemporary issues for drug education and prevention.

Speakers will address:

- Effective approaches to drug education, turning evidence into practice;

- The rationale, development and application of a social influence school curriculum in Europe;
- Targeting personality risk factors for substance misuse prevention.

The Drug Education Forum brings together national organisations committed to improving the practice and profile of drug education in England.
